Necco Center & Haugland Learning Center Form Partnership

Necco Center is pleased to announce a new partnership with Haugland Learning Center that will provide high quality education services for the youth we serve.

Haugland Learning Center (HLC) serves the educational needs of over 150 children with Autism or Asperger syndrome in the state of Ohio. HLC currently operates classroom-based programs in Columbus, Dublin, Lancaster, Portsmouth, and Sandusky/Erie County. HLC specializes in providing services to students with developmental disabilities.

HLC was formed by Dr. Morten Haugland, BCBA-D and his wife Kristine. Dr. Haugland has worked with individuals with special needs for over 30 years. Samantha Steffensmeier will serve as Program Director. Necco Center's school year begins on August 24th and we are excited to work with our new partners.

Necco Center continues to stay true to our mission of taking the best possible care of the people we serve and those who serve them. We believe that this new partnership will further enhance the programming that youth receive at Necco Center.
